The first thing we will test is the sign up page. We will be testing to see if entering a user that already exists will bring up an error message and not allow the user to continue without changing the name or login in.

The screenshot shows the WeatherTech website's 'CREATE ACCOUNT' page. The header includes the WeatherTech logo, navigation links for 'SANDWICHES' and 'PIZZAS/CALZONES', and a welcome message 'Welcome to WeatherTech Cafe!' with links for 'Sign In' and 'Create An Account'. The main content area is titled 'CREATE ACCOUNT' and 'Account Information'. It displays an error message in red: 'User already exists'. Below the error, it says 'Please fill in this form to create an account.' The form has three sections: 'Identikey' with a text input field containing 'Enter Identikey', 'Password' with a text input field containing 'Enter Password', and 'Confirm Password' with a text input field.

The screenshot shows the WeatherTech website's 'CREATE ACCOUNT' page with the form fields filled out. The header and navigation links are the same as in the previous screenshot. The main content area is titled 'CREATE ACCOUNT' and 'Account Information'. It displays the same error message in red: 'User already exists'. Below the error, it says 'Please fill in this form to create an account.' The form has three sections: 'Identikey' with a text input field containing 'saha0146', 'Password' with a text input field containing '...', and 'Confirm Password' with a text input field containing '...'. Below these sections is a section titled 'Your Information' with a sub-section 'Full Name' and a text input field containing 'Sasha Hall'.

The second thing we will test is the login page. We will be testing to see if using a fake username will bring up an error message. We will then check to see if entering a real username will grant access to the app.

The final thing we will test is the order food page. We will be testing to see if our app correctly checks the food and username to see if they entered a listed food as well as a username that is in our database.
